Story 1

AIDS is incurable. People have been warned about the dangers of irresponsible sexual activities. Over twenty-two million people have died worldwide due to HIV and AIDS in the past 20 years. Over twenty-five million are suffering from it in Africa alone.

Many families have lost dear ones and breadwinners. This has led to poverty at a high rate, especially in countries such as Uganda, Kenya, Congo and Zambia.

Children on the streets and in the villages cannot go to school because they have lost guardians and parents. They have no one to pay for their uniforms and other school requirements.

Many countries have lost well educated citizens such as engineers, accountants and teachers. Zambia has not been spared. This has led to poor running of various institutions such as firms and national organisations. There are not enough skilled citizens to take up the task.
